Good Morning Lovely Children

Daily News from Ms Clacy

I hope that you have had a lovely weekend. Bournemouth lost again but at least we scored 2 goals! Maybe that was because I told the players that I would get Bruno Bunny to play in their place if they didn't improve.

I am sat at home at the moment and you will never guess what has happened? I have had a flood in my kitchen. I have had 4 floods at school this year and now one at home. One of the pipes has burst and all my cupboards and floors are sat in water. I think I am just going to buy myself some flippers and a snorkel to wear at home and at school. Charlie Farley Cat Clacy is having a great time. He is exploring under the cupboards and splashing in the water. Betty Boo Boo, on the other hand, is sat on the sofa looking at him as though he is stupid. She is right!

Now Prime Minister Boris has said that you can all return to school in September. I am very excited by this as I have missed you all so much- yes even those who give me grief for supporting Bournemouth. You know who you are! We will be preparing over the summer for your return. Please do not worry if you are scared to return. Your teachers and I will look after you. The children, who have already returned, have been fine in school and they haven't caught the nasty virus.

I have also asked Prime Minister Boris if we can have a party for children, especially Year 6, yet. He has said not yet until there is no virus and everything is safe. However, I haven't forgotten that I owe you all a big party. So that is going to be after the holidays now.

I've got to go back to keeping Charlie out of the flood water now.

Love Ms C
