Dear Children,

Daily News

I hope that you had a lovely weekend. We had some bad thunderstorms where I live. I hate thunder and lightning so I was snuggled with Charlie Farley and Betty Boo Boo under the covers hoping it would go away. I bet you are all much braver than me. We are all big scardy cats in my house.

It has been very exciting today as we have welcomed children back from Reception; Year 1 and Year 6. I was so excited to see them. I think most of them were pleased to be back to school. There were lots of smiles and that was just from the teachers. I can't believe how tall many of the children have grown. Even children in Year 1 are nearly taller than me! Year 6 are massive now.

Prime Minister Boris said last week that Years 2,3, 4 and 5 would not be coming back to school until September although I have read in the papers this weekend that he may change his mind. It is all very confusing but as soon as I know I will let you know. He does have a habit of changing his mind about things. But as he is the Prime Minister he is allowed to do this if he thinks it will benefit the children.

The Guinea Pigs are also back. They have been living with Mrs Brittain during lock down. They are huge; their bellies are touching the floor! I always get told off for feeding them too much but I think Mr Brittain has been sneaking them snacks. I have never seen such porky pigs!

It is important that you do your school work as the children in school will be doing the same work as you. Be kind to your Mums and Dads as I have asked them to teach you and they have been fantastic teachers.

Love
Ms Clacy
